

University of Manchester
Centre for Criminology and Criminal Justice
Work in Progress – Semester One 2017/18

Work-in-Progress is a monthly discussion session for postgraduate students and staff of the Centre for Criminology and Criminal Justice. Each month, there will be an opportunity for one postgraduate and one staff member to discuss their research – whether it is a paper to test out before a conference, an idea for publication, or a methodological issue – in an informal and supportive yet engaging environment.

Wednesday 11th October, 2-3pm – Williamson Building, G.03

David Buil-Gil - Mapping Perceived Disorder at Low Spatial Level. An Introduction to Small Area Estimation Techniques in Criminology

Reka Solymosi - Crowdsourcing Subjective Perceptions of Neighbourhood Disorder: Interpreting Bias in Open Data

Thursday November 30th, 3-4pm – University Place, 4.209

Hidetaka Koyama - The Nexus of Police Research and Policy-Making in Contemporary Japan

Julia Horn - Why I Am Still Preoccupied with Assisted Dying. A Perspective from Criminology

Thursday 14th December, 3-4pm – Williamson Building, G.33

Emily Buehler - Literacy and Numeracy Attainment and Skill Development of Incarcerated US Adults

Shadd Maruna - Personality Disorder and the Prison: A Match Made in Hell

If you are interested in discussing your research at future sessions, please contact:
david.builgil@postgrad.manchester.ac.uk