

Agroni Research

Victoria Ita BSocSc (Hons) Sociology

About Agroni Research Ltd.

Agroni Research is an organisation, which was established in 2000, that specialises in research within British black and Asian minority ethnic (BAME) communities. They have a pool of over 300 multilingual researchers throughout the United Kingdom. The researchers are selected on a basis of their local, cultural and religious knowledge. Agroni Research uses both qualitative and quantitative research for a variety of clients in the public, private and voluntary sectors.

What I did

Familiarise myself with the Excel Spreadsheet through practising with old data first.

Insert and analyse data from Cancer Research about potential ways to increase awareness about mouth cancer in Tower Hamlets in Excel.

Work on a project about Agroni Research expanding their business to Bangladesh. In this report was a comparative study on the requirements for nurses and social workers in both the United Kingdom and Bangladesh with references to a range quantitative research that was recently done.

300
Multilingual
Researchers

Over 50
BAME communities

Qualitative Research

Quantitative
Research

What I gained from this internship

Through doing this internship, I have been able to:

- With the flexibility of my internship programme, I was also able to dedicate some time to learning about Excel and the ways I could put this into practice during my internship with Agroni. From this, I was able to use Excel confidently, including the short cuts, coding, and data cleaning in Excel. In addition to this, my Excel knowledge will further be of benefit in my Sociology Undergraduate Dissertation Project.
- Improve on my communication skills through communicating with Agroni Research's employees, as well as answering telephone calls regularly.
- At the end of my internship programme, I completed a Report titled, 'Doing Business in Bangladesh: Exploring the Potential Growth for Agroni Research'. This was printed off and bounded, and I was also able to keep a copy for myself. One big achievement from this report was that my manager used this report in meetings regarding Agroni Research's business expansion to Bangladesh.

AQR CELEBRATING 35 YEARS

THE ASSOCIATION FOR QUALITATIVE RESEARCH
the hub of qualitative thinking

Agroni Research

Directory

About the AQR Directory
Competencies A-Z
Geographies A-Z
Areas of Expertise
Methodologies
Search by Country
Advanced Search
Advanced Search
How to be Included

Useful Content

Market Research
Offering
Marketing
Miscellaneous

Contact Details

Beechwood Centre
223 Beechwood Road
London E3 2SE
Telephone: 020 8965 3320
Email: info@agroni.co.uk
Website: <http://www.agroni.co.uk>

agroni
research