WELCOME

Mark Woolstencroft

A warm welcome to the spring/summer 2017 season at the Martin Harris Centre.

The season gets off to an exciting start at the Martin Harris Centre with Craig Ogden and Jacqui Dankworth, who join us in January as part of Craig Ogden's Guitar Weekend.

In February we host two brilliant new dramas; The Burnley Buggers' Ball and Burnley's Lesbian Liberator, which have been commissioned by LGBT History Month.

Internationally renowned resident string quartet, the Quatuor Danel continues its twelfth season at the University, with an exciting and adventurous programme of chamber music.

The popular Literature Live series, run in conjunction with the University's Centre for New Writing, continues with an exciting line-up of authors, including an event with crime writer Val McDermid who returns to the Centre for an "in conversation" event with Professor of Creative Writing, Jeanette Winterson.

The ever popular Walter Carroll Lunchtime Concert Series continues with a wide-ranging programme of free Thursday lunchtime concerts, including a song recital with music alumnus and award-winning baritone, Marcus Farnsworth. The concerts are free, and you don't need to book, you can just turn up.

We are thrilled to be hosting the opening production of the Drama Society's "MIFTAs" (Manchester In-Fringe Theatre Awards) was it good for you? which is written and directed by students at The University of Manchester.

Bringing the season to a close in July, we are privileged to once again host new work as part of the Flare International Festival of New Theatre.

These are just a few highlights from this season's programme. We hope you will be able to join us for these and other exciting events at the Martin Harris Centre. For details of the entire programme, please refer to the events guide at the back of this brochure.

Tickets for the spring 2017 season are now on sale and can be purchased online (via Quaytickets), in person or by calling the Martin Harris Centre Box Office during opening times.

We look forward to welcoming you to the Martin Harris Centre during the forthcoming season.

Martin Harris Centre Manager

INTRODUCING THE MARTIN HARRIS CENTRE

The Martin Harris Centre for Music and Drama is a performance space situated at the heart of The University of Manchester.

The Centre opened in 2003 and is a vibrant and diverse venue. It hosts many musicians, performers and prize-winning authors. The Centre provides an excellent space for contemporary and classic theatre, music and comedy events, and hosts a reading series that has in the past featured such literary luminaries as Jeanette Winterson, Colm Tóibín, Martin Amis, Will Self and John Banville.

We also present new and exciting artists who go on to become household names as well as established artists performing to sell-out audiences all over the world.

350-seat Cosmo Rodewald Concert Hall

150-seat John Thaw Studio Theatre

The foyer at the Martin Harris Centre makes an immediately striking impact: its use of light, open space and bold areas of colour blend with Alice Kettle's dynamic textile artwork, Red and Blue Movement in Three, which was commissioned in 2004.

In March 2011, the Centre was delighted to receive a newly commissioned textile wall hanging also by Alice Kettle; The Birth of Motives in the Clouds. These striking pieces of artwork are unique in their grouping and were commissioned by The Oglesby Charitable Trust.

LITERATURE LIVE: Vona Groarke and Katherine Angel

Vona Groarke has published seven collections of poetry, most recently, Selected Poems (Gallery Press, 2016). Current editor of Poetry Ireland Review and a selector for the Poetry Book Society, she is a Senior Lecturer in Creative Writing at The University of Manchester.

The event is a launch of Four Sides Full, a personal essay. Vona's collections to date have all displayed a fascination with the visual arts, but Four Sides Full takes a different approach.

In considering frames and what they bring to an artwork, it reflects on themes of containment, the body and identity, and how a life can flit between.

Katherine Angel is the author of Unmastered: A Book On Desire, Most Difficult To Tell (Penguin; Farrar, Straus & Giroux). She is currently completing a book on personhood and subjectivity in sex research, and she collaborates with performance group The Blackburn Company on a live art reading, Unmastered Remastered.

This event will be hosted by Kaye Mitchell, co-director of the Centre for New Writing at The University of Manchester and is presented in partnership with The Real Story.

Jeanette Winterson "In Conversation" with Val McDermid

Val McDermid is one of the biggest names in crime writing. Her novels have been translated into 30 languages and sold over 10 million copies worldwide. Val has created many notable characters such as journalist, Lindsay Gordon; the private investigator, Kate Brannigan; and psychologist, Tony Hill.

Her books include three main series: Lindsay Gordon, Kate Brannigan, and, beginning in 1995, the Tony Hill and Carol Jordan series, the first entry in which, The Mermaids Singing, won the Crime Writers' Association Gold Dagger for Best Crime Novel of the Year. The Hill/Jordan series was adapted for the highly successful television drama: Wire in the Blood, starring Robson Green. Her 30th novel Out of Bounds was published last year.

Val will be in conversation with Jeanette Winterson, Professor of Creative Writing at the Centre for New Writing at The University of Manchester and author of award-winning books including Oranges Are Not the Only Fruit, The Gap of Time and Why Be Happy When You Could Be Normal?

Beth Underdown was born in Rochdale in 1987. Her debut novel, The Witchfinder's Sister, is based on the witch-hunts orchestrated by Matthew Hopkins in seventeenth century Essex, and is out in the UK and US with Penguin Random House in spring 2017. Beth joined the Centre for New Writing in 2016 as a Lecturer in Creative Writing.

Kate Hamer grew up in Pembrokeshire and has recently been awarded a Literature Wales bursary. Her bestselling novel The Girl in the Red Coat was a no 3. Sunday Times bestseller and shortlisted for the Costa First Book Award, the Bookseller Industry Awards Debut Fiction Book of the Year, the John Creasey New Blood Dagger and Wales Book of the Year. Her second novel The Doll's Funeral is published in February 2017.

This event will be introduced by Jeanette Winterson, acclaimed author and Professor of Creative Writing at the Centre for New Writing at The University of Manchester.

Neil Jordan

Jeanette Winterson "In Conversation" with Neil Jordan

Neil Jordan was born in 1950 in Sligo. His first book of stories, Night in Tunisia, won the Guardian Fiction Prize in 1979, and his subsequent critically acclaimed novels include The Past, Sunrise with Sea Monster, Shade and, most recently, The Drowned Detective.

The films he has written and directed have won multiple awards, including an Academy Award (The Crying Game), a Golden Bear at Venice (Michael Collins), a Silver Bear at Berlin (The Butcher Boy) and several BAFTAS (Mona Lisa and The End of the Affair).

Jordan's latest novel Carnavalesque is a bewitching, modern fairytale exploring identity and the loss of innocence and is published in February 2017.

Jordan will be in conversation with Jeanette Winterson, Professor of Creative Writing at the Centre for New Writing at The University of Manchester and author of award-winning books including Oranges Are Not the Only Fruit, The Gap of Time and Why Be Happy When You Could Be Normal?

MUSIC

FEATURED COMPOSER: Professor Philip Grange

The University's Professor Philip Grange celebrated his 60th birthday in 2016. To mark the occasion, the Martin Harris Centre is delighted to feature Professor Grange's music across its 2016-2017 concert season.

The centrepiece was a 60th birthday concert on Friday 16 December 2016, given by the internationally acclaimed ensemble Gemini. Professor Grange has had a long association with Gemini, and the concert featured the première of the major new work, Shifting Thresholds. Other highlights include The Kingdom of Bones, featuring mezzo-soprano, and University of Manchester alumna, Katie Bray, and the brass band work Lowry Dreamscape – both on 11 February 2017.

Philip Grange's principal composition teacher was Peter Maxwell Davies, with whom he studied between 1975 and 1981 both privately and at the Dartington Summer School of Music. Recent compositions have included the BBC commission Eclipsing (2004) for orchestra and three string quartets, the last of which, Ghosts of Great Violence (2012/13) was written for the Quatuor Danel.

A significant number of Grange's works have been recorded and released on CD and two single-composer CDs have been awarded Critic's Choice in Gramophone magazine. His large-scale wind ensemble piece Cloud Atlas (2009) was awarded a BASCA prize in 2010 and his compositions are published by Peters Edition. Grange is currently Professor of Composition at The University of Manchester, a position he has held since 2001.

The University of Manchester's internationally renowned resident string quartet.

Manchester's most adventurous chamber music season – the Quatuor Danel's twelfth at the University – offers a feast for lovers of Beethoven and contemporary music. Passionate renewals of the medium from the University's own Camden Reeves and Philip Grange measure up against five Beethoven quartets, themselves programmed alongside such emulators as Eisler, Lekeu, Shostakovich and Tanaka, and the spectacular Piano Quintet by Sergey Taneyev. And there's still room for Mozart, Tchaikovsky, Dvořák, Fauré and the Danels' perennial favourite, Weinberg.

All concerts take place in the Cosmo Rodewald Concert Hall

Please note that there is reserved seating for all Quatuor Danel Friday evening concerts at the MHC. Seating for all Thursday lunchtime concerts is unreserved.

The Thursday lunchtime concerts are part of the Walter Carroll Lunchtime Concert Series, which is supported by the Ida Carroll Trust.

Lunchtime Concert

Weinberg String Trio in A minor, Op. 48
Tchaikovsky Quartet No. 2 in F, Op. 22

Weinberg's only String Trio, a heartfelt yet elusive piece from the time when he was tailed by the Soviet secret police, followed by the second of Tchaikovsky's three quartets, the alternately boisterous and confessional F major.

Followed at 2.30pm by

Quatuor Danel Seminar: 'Masters of Composition 2'

A workshop of new music by the University's MusM composers.

Evening Concert with Pascal Moraguès (clarinet)

Brahms Quintet for Clarinet and Strings in B minor, Op. 115
Rihm Quintet for Clarinet and Strings (Vier Studien zu einem Klarinettenquintett)

Principal clarinetist of the Orchestre de Paris and professor at the Paris Conservatoire, Pascal Moraguès joins the Quatuor Danel for Brahms' gloriously lyrical masterpiece and the mighty Four Studies towards a Clarinet Quintet by the prolific German contemporary composer Wolfgang Rihm.

Pascal Moraguès

Lunchtime Concert

Karen Tanaka 'At the Grave of Beethoven' (1999)
Beethoven Quartet in D, Op. 18 No. 3

Though numbered third, Beethoven's D major quartet was in fact the first he composed. Its arch-shaped opening bars in turn form the basis for the tribute by Japanese composer Karen Tanaka, written in 1999 for the bicentenary of Beethoven's Op. 18.

Please note that there will not be a public workshop following this lunchtime concert.

Quatuor Danel

'Amazing classical music concert. Quatuor Danel plays all of this music magnificently' – David Hurwitz, Classics Today

Evening Concert with Sarah Leonard (soprano)

Debussy String Quartet in G minor
Xenakis Tetras
Schoenberg String Quartet No. 2, Op. 10

Three innovatory quartet masterpieces: Debussy's 1893 Quartet brushes the cobwebs off this apparently most traditional of media; Schoenberg's Second, with added soprano voice in the last two movements, boldly goes into the zero-gravity world of atonality; and Xenakis's Tetras sets sail for the unknown in a whirlwind of unheard-of sonorities.

Lunchtime Concert

Lekeu 'Molto adagio'
Beethoven Quartet in E flat, Op. 18, No. 6

The most adventurous of Beethoven's early quartets is famous for its finale introduction, entitled 'La Malinconia'; what better pairing, then, than Guillaume Lekeu's 1887 quartet movement inspired by the Biblical text: 'My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death'?

Followed at 2.30pm by

Evening Concert with David Fanning (piano)

Beethoven Quartet in F, Op. 59 No. 1 ('Razumovsky')
Taneyev Piano Quintet in G minor, Op. 25

The first of Beethoven's three mid-period quartets for the Russian ambassador in Vienna, with a Russian folk-theme ingeniously worked into the finale; and the mightiest of Russian piano quintets, emulating Beethoven and Brahms, with David Fanning in the daunting piano part.

DRAMA

The Martin Harris Centre continues to offer the best, young, creative talent a 'powerful voice in Manchester'. The John Thaw Studio Theatre is a valuable performance space where students make their own independent experiments in theatre – as performers, writers, directors and technicians. Many alumni have acknowledged what an important part these performances played in their creative and intellectual development during their time at university.

University of Manchester Drama Society Manchester In-Fringe Theatre Awards (MIFTAs)

The MIFTA season is an exciting season of productions by members of The University of Manchester Drama Society. In venues across Manchester including the John Thaw Studio Theatre, students showcase their creative work.

The opening production of the MIFTAs will be:

was it good for you?

written by Rosie Harris and Luke Smith

directed by Rosie Harris

produced by Cerys Spilsbury

This is a play about a one night stand. Two people are in the throes of passion, and things just naturally pop into their heads, be it their own insecurities, or the helpful advice of our favourite pop culture characters.

Please note:

- Age 16+
- This production contains strong language and scenes of a sexual nature

"It is hard to believe that these polished performances all come from students. The University of Manchester Drama Society pull off a seemingly professional show, which leads the audience into falling for one utterly madcap situation after another."

Ed fringe review for Novel Experiments in Living, one of last year's MIFTAs

WE WELCOME

The Martin Harris Centre welcomes professional and amateur productions, both international and closer to home, to the heart of Manchester.

We host powerful and dynamic productions in our vibrant and exciting performance spaces and reach out to wider audiences with performances in some of the most important venues in the City.

Craig Ogden

Craig Ogden and Jacqui Dankworth

Jacqui Dankworth is one of the most highly regarded vocalists in the UK. Known primarily as a jazz singer, Jacqui's unique musical palette also draws on folk, soul, classical, blues and numerous other influences.

Craig Ogden is one of the world's finest classical guitarists. He is known both for his No. 1 chart-topping CDs for Classic FM and for his virtuosic concerto performances with orchestra, as a chamber musician and soloist at major venues around the world.

The combination of classical guitar and voice is familiar to Jacqui, having grown up with John Williams and Cleo Laine around the house! Their programme includes a mixture of intimate songs from figures as diverse as Paul Simon and James Taylor, Henry Mancini and Michel Legrand.

This concert is part of Craig Ogden's Guitar Weekend 2017 at The Bridgewater Hall. For information about other events over the weekend please visit The Bridgewater Hall website.

The Burnley Buggers' Ball

Written by Stephen M Hornby and directed by Matt Hassall

Burnley's Lesbian Liberator

Written by Abi Hynes and directed by Helen Parry

In the 1970s, Burnley was the UK's battleground for gay and lesbian rights.

LGBT History Month has commissioned two brilliant new dramas from Inkbrew Productions to rediscover this amazing forgotten history.

The Burnley Buggers' Ball, by award-winning playwright Stephen M Hornby, tells the story of a transformative political meeting held at Burnley Central Library which gave birth to the modern gay rights movement.

Burnley's Lesbian Liberator, by Abi Hynes, dramatises the political activism of a bus driver sacked for nothing more than wearing a Lesbian Liberation badge. She fought back and started a battle won decades later.

Be prepared to take sides and get involved in these two fantastic immersive dramas.

Ballroom and Latin for Beginners: Free Taster Session

Try our 'Ballroom and Latin for Beginners' free taster session to get a flavour for some of your favourite Ballroom dances in a relaxed and friendly environment.

The taster session will be delivered by Mark Rowbottom who manages "Steppin' Out" dance centre and has more than twenty years dance experience. Within the taster class you will receive expert tuition on two of the standard Ballroom dances: Quickstep and Jive. You do not need a partner to join the taster class.

This Ballroom taster class is a great opportunity to try the class and ask the tutor any questions you may have before deciding whether or not to sign up to the 'Ballroom and Latin for Beginners' course. This is an 8-week course that will take place at the Martin Harris Centre in autumn 2017.

Please book early for one of the two free sessions.

Places are strictly limited and allocated on a first come, first served basis.

Getting here

The Martin Harris Centre for Music and Drama is situated behind the Manchester Museum, which is located on Oxford Road. It is approximately 1 mile south of the city centre.

There are 2 entrances to the building, one on Bridgeford Street, the other on Coupland Street. Please note that there is pedestrian access only to both of these streets.

The Cosmo Rodewald Concert Hall and the John Thaw Studio Theatre can both be found within the Martin Harris Centre.

Sat Nav:

Please do not rely on your satellite navigation system to find the Martin Harris Centre, as our postcode covers the entire University of Manchester campus. As an alternative, we would advise patrons to use Google maps.

Find us on Google:

www.google.com/maps and search for Martin Harris Centre.

By Bus: Direct routes to Oxford Road run regularly from Piccadilly Gardens in Central Manchester. Routes and timetable enquiries 0161 242 6040.

Metrolink: For up-to-date information and timetables please visit the website: www.metrolink.co.uk

By Train: Oxford Road station is a ten minute walk away. Train enquiries 08457 48 49 50.

Car Parking: Car parking is available in the multi-storey car park D (Booth Street West). During current construction work on campus, the car park is accessible from Higher Cambridge Street. Parking costs £2.00 from 4pm to midnight weekdays, £2.00 all day on Saturday and Sunday and is payable upon exiting the car park. Please note that there is no vehicle access to the Martin Harris Centre from either Bridgeford Street or Coupland Street. Please refer to the terms and conditions for the Booth Street West car park.

*Please note that if you stay after midnight then the £10 overnight charge will apply (except on Saturdays)

Access

There are a range of facilities within the Martin Harris Centre for disabled patrons. The Martin Harris Centre is fully accessible.

It has a ramp at the Coupland Street entrance and there are level floor entrances to both performance spaces. Both entrances to the building have auto-opening doors. There are wheelchair spaces in the Cosmo Rodewald Concert Hall and in the John Thaw Studio Theatre.

Wheelchair access is available to our performance spaces at The Martin Harris Centre.

Low-level counters are available at the box office. Disabled toilet facilities are available on the ground floor. A manually operated wheelchair is available by prior arrangement.

Patrons requiring wheelchair access are asked to inform the box office at the time of booking.

Disabled (blue badge) visitors

Disabled visitors will be allowed to access on campus parking as near as possible to the Centre. This will be free of charge and accessible via the intercom help point at the entry to campus (to the left of the entrance to Booth Street West multi-storey).

Where it is not possible to accommodate this, there are plenty of dedicated disabled bays at the multi-storey car park at Booth Street West and these are also free of charge; however to obtain free exit the paper ticket (taken on entry) must be validated by the attendant before returning to your vehicle.

The John Thaw Studio Theatre is fitted with an induction loop. (Hearing aids should be switched to the 'T' position).

The Cosmo Rodewald Concert Hall has been fitted with an infra-red induction loop. Receivers for this facility are available from The Martin Harris Centre Box Office. Please advise Box Office of your requirements at the time of booking.

General Access Information:

Please call the box office on 0161 275 8951 for further information on access.

- There is a drop off point outside the venue.
- There is seating in the main foyer.
- The Martin Harris Centre has baby changing facilities.

Babes in Arms: Attendance to appropriate events for children under 2 years is free. Children under 2 years must have a ticket to attend the performance, must be seated in the lap of the accompanying adult ticket holder and may not occupy a seat. The ticket may be obtained in advance or on the door. Please contact box office for further information. Check individual event listings for any age restrictions.

The multi-storey on Booth Street West, has been awarded the 'Park Mark' award. Safer parking status, Park Mark@, is awarded to parking facilities that have met the requirements of a risk assessment conducted by the Police.
