

School of Environment and Development
Geography Seminar Series 2006-2007

Semester 1

Mondays at 1.00pm and Wednesdays at 4.00pm
Room 2.04, Mansfield Cooper Building

Date	Speaker	Title
Wednesday 4 October 2006	Dr Tim Edensor Dept of Geography Manchester Metropolitan University	Solid as a Rock? The Affordances of Stone and its Spatial and Temporal Entanglements with Elsewhere: Central Manchester
Wednesday 11 October 2006	Dr Kate Swanson Dept of Geographical & Earth Sci University of Glasgow	Geographies of Exclusion in the Ecuadorian Andes: Migrant Indigenous Beggars on the Streets of Quito and Guayaquil
Wednesday 18 October 2006	Dr Fred Worrall Dept of Earth Sciences Durham University	Deckchairs on the Titanic - the Future of Carbon Storage in Northern Peatlands
Wednesday 25 October 2006	Professor Erik Swyngedouw Geography Discipline, SED University of Manchester	TechnoNatural Revolutions: Scalsar Politics and General Franco's Wet Dream for Spain
Wednesday 8 November 2006	Dr Leah Gibbs Dept of Geographical & Earth Sc University of Glasgow	Valuing Water: Variability and the Lake Eyre Basin, Central Australia
Wednesday 15 November 2006	Professor David Sadler Geography Department University of Liverpool	Corporations and Communities: the Changing Political Economy of Corporate Responsibility and Accountability
Wednesday 22 November 2006	Dr James Rothwell Geography Department Manchester Metropolitan University	Heavy Metal and Nitrogen Release from Organic-Rich Soils: Mechanisms and Modelling

Monday 27 November 2006	Dr James Faulconbridge Geography Department Lancaster University	Geographies of Professionalism and Global Professional Service Firms
Wednesday 29 November 2006	Dr Susan Page Geography Department University of Leicester	Fanning the Flames of Climate Change: the Role of Tropical Peatlands in the Global Carbon Cycle
Monday 4 December 2006	Dr Roger Braithwaite Geography Discipline School of Environment and Development University of Manchester	Chinese Glaciers
Wednesday 6 December 2006	Professor Ed Soja UCLA School of Public Affairs/ Urban Planning Los Angeles USA	The spatial turn in the human sciences