

School of Environment and Development
Geography Seminar Series 2007-2008

Semester 2
Room 1.69/1.70, 1st Floor, Humanities Bridgford Street Building

Date	Time	Speaker	Title
Wednesday 30 January 2008	4.00pm	Jamie Woodward School of Environment and Development University of Manchester	Small Rivers, Big Ideas, Huge Floods: Changing Views on Mediterranean River Histories
Wednesday 6 February 2008	4.00pm	Kathryn Yusoff Geography Dept Exeter University	The Political Aesthetics of Climate Change
Monday 11 February 2008	1.00pm	Maria Kaika School of Environment and Development University of Manchester	Iconic Building: Re-Imag(in)ing London and Re-Branding the City
Wednesday 13 February 2008	4.00pm	David Bridgland Geography Dept University of Durham	Quaternary Fluvial Archives: Pointing to a New Paradigm in Landscape Evolution
Wednesday 20 February 2008	4.00pm	Chris Allen Dept of Sociology Manchester Metropolitan University	Urban Renewal and the 'Relevant' University: Knowledge, Power and Partnership in the Class Remake of the City of Culture
Monday 25 February 2008	1.00pm	James Evans School of Environment and Development University of Manchester	Rescue Geographies: Developing Methods for Public Geographers
Wednesday 27 February 2008	4.00pm	Philip Barker Dept of Geography Lancaster University	Carbon, Silicon and Long Term Environmental Change
Wednesday 5 March 2008	1.00pm	Matthew Gandy Dept of Geography University College London	Urban Bulimia and the Prosthetic City
Wednesday 12 March 2008	4.00pm	Tim Allott School of Environment and Development University of Manchester	A Palaeolimnological Light into Murky Waters? Testing Hypotheses for the Increasing Water Colour of Upland Streams